MARY KAREN WILLS JOINS ARGY, WILTSE & ROBINSON, P.C.

Key Partner Greatly Strengthens Growing Government Contracts Consulting Practice

McLean, VA — February 26, 2008 — Argy, Wiltse & Robinson, P.C. (AWR), a rapidly-growing certified public accounting and business advisory firm, is pleased to announce that Mary Karen Wills has joined the firm as a partner in its Government Contracts Consulting Group. Wills is a key figure in the Washington area's government contracting business community. Her addition caps off a year of considerable growth for the consulting group, which has gone from one to twelve professionals.

"Mary Karen is a tremendous addition to our rapidly growing Government Contracts Consulting Group. She is an exceptional professional with great leadership skills that will not only be instrumental to the future of our GCCG group but to our overall firm as well. We are very pleased to have her on our team," said Paul Argy, AWR President and CEO. "She will certainly have a significant impact on the growth and development of our Government Contracting Consulting practice. "

Wills has over 20 years of professional and industry experience in the areas of government contract accounting, pricing, financial consulting and public accounting. She has served clients in virtually every industry, particularly government contractors in electronics, construction, healthcare, engineering, manufacturing, systems integrations, software, hospitality, professional services and higher education.

Mary Karen Wills began her career and spent 17 years with Arthur Andersen. In addition to consulting experience, she has held key industry positions including General Manager and Director of Sales and Business Development for a national finance and accounting outsourcing company. She most recently led the Washington, D.C. Government Contracts Group of another regional accounting firm.

Mary Karen Wills will work out of AWR's McLean and Bethesda offices.
